

Flower Mound Community Orchestras and Choirs Share Christmas Music

Give your family an early Christmas present and a helping of holiday cheer by celebrating the holiday season with a Christmas concert by your community's orchestras and choirs.

The Flower Mound Symphony Orchestra (directed by Esteban Rojas), the Voices of Flower Mound (directed by Mary McGuyer), and the Trietsch Chancel Choir (directed by Karen Chraska) will perform on Saturday, December 12 and Sunday, December 13, both at 7 P.M.. at Trietsch Memorial United Methodist Church, 6101 Morriss Road, Flower Mound.

The Bells of Trietsch Handbell Choir and the Lewisville First United Methodist Church Choir (conducted by Anna Castaneda) also will join them as they present Bach's Magnificat, Christmas favorites and a carol sing-a-long.

For more holiday cheer, the Preparatory (directed by Esteban Rojas) and Philharmonic (directed by Mark Scott) Orchestras will present their Christmas concert, featuring seasonal favorites, on December 8 at 7:30 P.M. at Trietsch Memorial United Methodist Church in Flower Mound.

Join us to share these celebrations of the season. All FMCO orchestra concerts are free and donations are gratefully accepted. FMCO is a 501(c) (3) organization. Donations help pay for music, staff, performance space and clinicians and soloists. We appreciate the support of our patrons!

Auditions for all orchestras will be held at Trietsch on January 3rd, 1:00 to 5:00 P.M. Auditions are open for musicians of any proficiency level. Our orchestras have grown in number and difficulty of repertoire. There is a place for any musician with FMCO!. Visit the website at www.fmco.org to learn more about requirements and sign up for an audition.
